Foreword...

To bring back fond memories of the past and to afford many hours of entertainment in the future is the purpose of this Log.

Herein, are gathered the faces of your classmates, some of whom have won distinction through their attainments in athletics, through activities, and scholarship.

If, in years to come, you can sit in an arm chair and spend an enjoyable hour or two with this annual, recognizing your old friends and watching them parade by in a silent panorama of their activities, the members of the Annual Board will feel amply repaid for their efforts.

We wish to make known at this time our appreciation for the cooperation of our faculty advisers, Mr. James Card, who scrutinized our copy for mistakes and criticisms; Mr. Robert Finch, for his fine work in financing this annual; and, Mr. Lester E. Angene. whose unceasing and excellent management of the Log was invaluable. Not to be forgotten are Mr. Robert Phillips and Mr. Roy Hinch, who through their excellent cooperation completed the fine work done on the photography in this book.

The staff also wishes to thank all those students who have made helpful contributions in both writing and photography.

In this section we express, in general, the school's educational outlook. We introduce the staff of the Shore School and officials of the Euclid Public Schools.

The Principal's Office

For his untiring efforts in promoting our welfare, in successfully inculcating principles and duties of citizenship, and in fostering a spirit of friendship and cooperation, we, the senior class, thank Principal Leonard E. Loos. We will all remember the many unfailing attempts he has made to better our interests and associations.

LEONARD E. LOOS

In our office at Shore can be found three excellent workers who are continually typing reports, filing records, receiving callers, recording expenses, or answering telephone calls. These girls are Miss Philomena Vidugeris, the principal's secretary; Miss Dorothy Stray, stenographer and telephone operator, and Mrs. Crampton, clerk. Their effort and management are to be commended.

Comprehensive Services of Shore School

Shore School offers a program of studies that is broad and designed to meet the needs, interests, and abilities of all who seek to continue their education. The work is no lenger strictly academic and limited in scope to the college preparatory' studies. While students who so choose are well prepared for college, the first and most fundamental purpose of the school is to prepare students for life-life in its broad, cultural setting.

Shore may well be called a comprehensive school. The public mind is accustomed to think of school life as consisting mostly of class-room instruction. This no longer gives a fair picture of the purposes and operation of a modern school. Because of the broad mission of the high school, the educational program is thought of as including not only classes but the opportunities of club and homeroom activities, assemblies, personal counseling in matters of career and life adjustment, athletics, musical activities, dramatic and other artistic ventures, etc.

Instead of using only textbooks and lectures for instruction, the school makes wide use of visual education, especially through the showing of movies and the participation of educational tours.

In this brief space only the general problem of planning and supervision can be suggested. It may be pointed out that the work of the principal of the school and his staff has two main purposes:

1. Maintaining an educational program of high standard.
2. Constantly studying the possibilities for improving the program of the school.

In maintaining an educational program of high standard, the school strives not only for scholarship in ceitain fields but for the development of character and personality in students as individuals and for the promotion of cooperative group life among students. Shore School has constantly maintained a service of educational guidance, especially through the agency of the home-room. In this group, each student receives the advice and counsel of a teacher who is well acquainted with him and thoroughly familiar with his educational record and ambitions.

The educational program of the schools, since it tries to provide a whole and wholesome life for young people, encourages the formation of student clubs for the development of special interests and for cooperative participation.

The spirit of helping and guiding pupils is associated with all of the supervisory and instructional activities of the school and no one activity is considered apart as guidance. This follows the theory that there is more learning from practice than from preaching.

Shore school considers the physical activities of the students in intramural and interscholastic athletics as exceptional opportunities for teaching people how to iive well. In fact, conscious effort has been applied to maintaining a wise balance of physical and mental activities. 'This is in keeping with the motto inscribed wer the arch of Shore Auditorium: "Dedicated to the youth of this city for the development of mind and body."
ln constantly improving services for students, certain new plans have been tried or adopted. For the last two years, students interested in attending colleges or other schools of higher learning have had the opportunity to be helped with their plans by taking part in the career and college program held each January. At these programs, many representatives of colleges have been available for consultation.

During the current year, a Life Purpose Week program was introduced. The theme of this event was "Let Us Have a Purpose and a Plan."

Students have commented that some young people change their plans for a career every time they see a different profession or occupation depicted in the movies. Although the field of occupational choice is a wide one, there was an opportunity during the Life Purpose Week for each student to get a general idea of the broad fields of opportunity and to make headway in choosing a career.

Throughout the year personal counseling is afforded the student by his homeroom teacher, the deans, the principal, and representatives of agencies outside of the school who are consulted.

The home-room is the core of the school organization. It gives every student a chance to meet at least once each day with a teacher who is interested in him for a longer time than a single course requires. In the home room, pupils have plentiful opportunities for civic, social, and character-developing activities.

Home-room activities foster school spirit. Sportsmanship, fair play and other good habits are developed. Furthermore, desirable personality traits are developed by the experiences in these groups.

In all classes and activities Shore School practices "guidance." In its many activities, Shore School strives best to serve the student and his community. The following pages tell in part how this is done.

The Personnel Staff

MR. PEAKE

Mr. Peake, dean of boys, is available for conferences on vocational and career problems. He, also, promotes home room programs, supervises attendance and assists in scheduling.

Miss Albrecht, dean of girls, affords personal counseling in the high school and assists in the elementary school. Like the dean of boys, she maintains records about students and professionally considers their problems.

Mr. V'orhees, director of pupil personnel, is the man for the "main office" who checks up on all attendance cases referred to him by the school. He, also, assists various organizations in social service projects.

MISS ALBRECHT

MR. VORHEES

Euclid Public School Officals

This legislative and policy-forming body, the Board of Education, has done much in the way of the advancement and progressiveness of Shore High. It is to them that we direct compliments for their praiseworthy work.

To Dr. E. C. Grover, Superintendent of Euclid Schools, goes our deep appreciation for his unending interests in the improvement of our school during our brief stay with it. His helpful suggestions and additions have made school life more pleasant, as well as interesting for us.

DR. E. C. GROVER

Instructional Departments

ENGLISH
Composition . . . Poetry . . . Drama . . . English and American Literature, everything in the way of writing and speak-ing-that is a course in English. The love of one's country comes forth in the speaking of her tongue. Rare gems of poetry, a good book and the true appreciation of it ; culture and refinement, intelligence and foresight - all these are attained, when with an open mind one takes a course in English.

The World of the "Unknown"

Nlore and more apparent does the universality of mathematics become to the student as he sees its application in his daily work, whether working out a page plan for the Log, counting calories for a well-balanced meal, or any of the numerous tasks which may be listed. The school offers expert training in algebra, plane and solid geometry, and trigonometry, so that the student may add to his mathematical training.

A student majoring in math, studies algebra in the first year of high school, plane geometry in his sophomore year; in the junior year he chooses between a full year of algebra or a half year of algebra and a half year of solid geometry; in the senior year, he may elect trigonometry, solid geometry or advanced algebra, provided he has studied the proper prerequisites.

The World of Business

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT
This department offers an intensely valuable course as interesting as any which the high school provides. Subjects which will be of definite value to the students in the business world are taught fully and efficiently in this department. Some of the newer additions to the department are Ediphones, Calculators, Bookkeeping Machines, Filing Systems, and the latest Ditto and Mimeograph Machines. Four semesters of shorthand and typewriting are an important division of the Commercial Department as well as four semesters of Business, two semesters of Bookkeeping, and two of Office Practice.

HOME ARTS

The Home Arts Department constitutes an important part of our set-up in the high school. In the various classes the girls are taught to plan, prepare. and serve meals and to make their own clothing. In addition, they study home management, budgeting, and art as related to home and clothing. The girls learn to make better use of their leisure time, energy, and money, and learn the fundamentals of good home making.

With A Nail and A Hammer

INDUSTRIAL ARTS
An interesting feature included in these arts is mechanical drawing. This study is interesting to all who have any talent for drawing. The work consists of drawing geometrical figures and designs; practice in the drawing of machine parts and architectural figures. In Shop students make various articles of use and of picturesque design. Many of these articles are later used in the homes of the boys who make them. Industrial Arts gives a background for work in later life.

Social Studies

To awaken the young people of today and help them fulfill their duties to their community and country, Social Studies are taught in the high schools. "Why bother to study the past-the future and the present are the most important." This is the remark often heard but one finds that in order to make the present and the future all it should be, a study of past mistakes must be made thus to avoid making them again.

The world of today is a world of Science.
Science is the backbone of existence-these are the thoughts of people today. Chemistry, once thought "witch's magic," now essential to our mechanized world which it has made possible. In order to fully appreciate its uses and value Science is brought into our schools to be better understood and to send future helpers of

ART

Vivid, splashing colors used cleverly on bits of manila and behold before your eyes a scene is depicted and you pause to admire an artist's creation. A lump of clay-a finely shaped vase-ceramics class. Art appeals to eyes and has a restful effect on those who help to make it as well as those who see it. As the poet expresses himself in verse so docs the artist in paint or crayon and themolding of a mass of clay into a thing of beauty.

VOCAL EXPRESSION

If art is appreciated through seeing then surely music is appreciated through hearing, whether that music be made by instrument or by voices. Few are talented with a beautiful voice and few are born knowing how to play a violin but through training and practice these things are achieved. Music has an important place because it helps develop a sense of rhythm and harmony.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

When our own unruly language has been conquered, we set out to find new languages to explore. Whether it be Latin, German, or French matters not, for each has a definite benefit and a definite use.

Latin, long known as a dead language because it is not spoken by a race, is the basic foundation of most languages and therefore of utmost value. French and German give a wider and broader knowledge of the world without, and what better way is there to learn to know one's fellowmen than by learning their history and customs while studying their language!

Now more than ever before, there is a need for the better understanding of our neighbors across the ocean. One of the finest ways is to study a foreign language.

We Who Depart

The height of high school ambition-to have attained the rank of Senior! And now that our time has come there is the sadness of parting-longing regrets for neglected opportunities.

The prom, senior pictures, senior banquet, graduation, annual, senior play-what a whirl were those last few months!

Basketball, football, baseball (and we did have good teams, didn't we?) -with regret we leave them behind to face the futureawesome in its spirit of desired and veiled ambitions.

Those We Leave Behind

Here are our underclassmen, but they will be Seniors some day too! Until then, however, they are busy working hard, having fun and looking forward to the day when some Freshman will say"Yes, they are Seniors." Then it will be their turn to take over the leadership of the school and help the new underclassmen on their way to Seniorship. We who are graduating take with us fine memories of friends who will be "filling our shoes."

Makers of Friendships True and

FRIENDSHIP CLUB
Friends galore in this happy group of friendly faces! They set forth on a treasure hunt to discover the hidden gems of a valuable hidden school year. Recognition services launched the club on its pursuit of friends . . . spending a whole week-end at Mary Eells Camp, an adventure never to be forgotten . . . an uproarious time at the Hallowe'en Party as movies were taken here

HI-Y
The Hi-Y members started out the school year with their annual tournaments; these tournaments were not only among themselves but also with other Hi-Y's. As usual they were a great success as is anything these boys do. Musty smells . . . old clothes . . . scratchy hay . . . hamburgers and the boys found themselves on a "Hay Ride" with Friendship girls with them. Did they have fun? Around Hallowe'en time the boys again got together and held

Holders of Memories Dear

and there quiz bees on Wednesday afternoons prizes to brainsters. Christmas came around and the Friendship club and Hi-Y club got together and emerged with a semi-formal dance. Miss Campbell has guided the girls throughout their club activities in keeping their ideals and goals, objects to be acquired.

a "weiner roast" only somebody made off with some of the pies. The boys did their part when they combined with Friendship club for the semi-formal dance, anyway the girls thought so. Mr. Schwegler is the leader of this club and you have only to ask the boys if you desire to hear him heaped with praise. These boys are going far in the world making good young men.

We Couldn't Do Without Them

STUDENT COUNCIL
In each homeroom in the school the Student Council is represented by a member and this member brings the room's suggestions for the betterment of the school to the Student Council meetings. Here the suggestions are discussed and voted upon and if the suggestion is voted worthy, the Councilors proceed to enforce it. This year as many years before, the Student Council has played an important part in school activities. They conducted the "Vocational Guidance Week" and have run a series of after school dances. The Council is under the supervision of Miss Aingworth.

AD. COMMITTEE

Have you bought your "Booster's Tag" to the football game? Have you bought your ticket to the Senior Play? With a barrage of "Have you's" we find the everbusy Ad. Committee members greeting you in the halls. They see to it that you hear and see about everything ahead of time. Shore needs boosters and these students make good leaders. Mr. Spangler is the guiding Booster in this Committee.

Familiar Strains

CHORUS

Who has number seven that's my music folio somebody has taken some music out of here

Mr. Raish, music singing $\cdot$ music stand for our first period Chorus. But not only do they signify a group of fifty voices, they also represent the interesting musical programs in assemblies, when we have heard the familiar strains of southern melodies. Friday ordinary rehearsals stop and fearless members have chances to show off in front of their fellow classmates.

GLEE CLUB

Two traditions . . . one depending upon the other . . . Shore High's Christmas music and Shore High's Girls' Glee Club. Well do we appreciate their value . . . the haunting refrain of "Pale Moon" . . . floating through the air . . . rehearsals for "Gala Nite" and many more delightful programs.

Voices On High

ROBED CHOIR
Early morning rehearsals . . . black robes . . . starched white collars . . . 30 voices . . . the P.-T. A. musical program . . . Gala Nite . . . bidding farewell to the seniors with the familiar strains of "The Rosary" . . . and last but not least, the annual concert with the band. Then to make the world all right the choir meets with other choral groups at Bedford to end the joyous season. Add all of these together and the sum equals that outstanding organization-the Robed Choir.

As The Baton Is Raised . . . .

ORCHESTRA
Ever faithful ever needed
this could be the definition of our school orchestra. At more serious programs given we find the orchestra playing favorite classical pieces whether the stirring "Triumphal March of the Priests" from Aida, or the light and airy "Tales of Vienna Woods." The orchestra's greatest importance comes at Commencements.

BAND
Sleet . . wind . . hail . . . a football game . . . it means nothing to the band, always there . . . spurring on the fight . . . boosting the team and proud as Dean Tinker "struts his stuff" in the sparkling new uniform. As a climax of their successful season, the annual band concert is held in April. . . . So let's give three cheers for "Old Faithful," our band!

The Girl Athlete

GIRI, S' SPOR'TS

A flash of a blacke
a bouncy white ball
the quiver of an arrow Laughter the girls of Shore High competing with each other in Sports. keep competition . . . a loser in the game but a winner in spirit . . . all this speaks for the modern girl athlete. Straight and graceful bodies are built, minds are trained to be quick and alert while still having fun in sports such as Archery, Fencing, Ping Pong, Basketball, Volleyball, and many more.

The Boy Athlete

BOYS' SPORTS

The same is true of Boys' Sports as is of Girls' Sports, except that more strength and force is shown by the boys as . . . a dash around the field . .
the show of intricate holds of the wrestler or the deft 月ick of the wrist of the fencer. From Ping Pong to Boxing one finds a champion. Shore High is proud of its good Sportsmen!

Clubs and Clubs

GIRLS' LEADERS CLUB

Our most recent club to join the frivolous group. The girls are leaders in every way . . . new suits of white material are worn by members only. 'These girls help conduct Gym classes and competitive tournaments. At Christmas they held a party which was successful in every way. All these happy hours are given to the credit of Miss Cill's untiring cooperation with these youthiul athletes.

BOY'S' LEADERS CLUB

These boy leaders are the equivalent of the girl leaders and they also help conduct Gym classes. The older boys wear shirts which tell that wey are in the club : the younger boys wear a shield which says, "Shore Leader." These boys played an important part in this year's Gym exhibition.

G. A. C.

'The Girls' Athletic Club sponsors all tournaments after school and all members receive points according to the tournaments they are in, and after reaching the number of points, they are entitled to a letter. This letter is white set on green and every member receiving one is proud of it. It usually rewards the work of four years of high school, Freshman year through Senior year.

DRAMATIC CLUB

One more week 'til the production is to go on . . . worry . . . anxiety . . . then relief! Yes, you guessed it . . . we're talking about the Dramatic Club and "The Queen's Husband" and also, not to be slighted. "The Man In the Bowler Hat," Gala Nite's "A Happy Journey." But it isn't all play rehearsals and hard work. . . . Remember the fun at the dance on St. Patrick's day? . . . Under the able direction of Mr. Card . . . these have been the contributions given to us by the 1938-39 Dramatic Club . . . so more power to them in continuing their share of contributions.

TRAVEL CLUB

Buenos Aires . . . the dashing sheiks of French Morocco . . . Calcutta, the land of rumbling herds . . . the gentle, rolling waters of the Waikiki beach and back to room No. 221 in less than an hour. Thus journey the members of our "Travel Club" with Miss Delamater, the stewardess. Retween brief respites the members bring their weaving and embroidery and try their hand at that.

AVIATION CLUB,

"Men with Wings" . . . Oh, yeah? Horns, maybe, but not wings. Seriously; though, these air-minded boys study and speculate the future of aviation and all its possibilities as an even-more-modern-means of transportation, and aviation as a future career. Thus does Mr. Spangler guide these pliable minds in his Aviation Club.

BUSINESS CLUB

What dress shall I wear? Do these blazer sox match my plaid tie? Which finger do you strike the " $A$ " with on the typewriter? Are abbreviations ever correct? (Not when 1 use them.) These and many more such questions are answered during Miss Darst's and Mr. Finch's Business Club meetings.

Alany other clubs meet on the Wednesday after noon but these are but a few representatives of the variety and the usefulness of the various clubs.

The Fighting Admirals

More than ever, this year Shore students are proud of the fighting Admirals, who won their first undisputed Eastern Conference Football Championship title. Close to sixty enthusiastic boys turned out at the call of Fall Football practice and from these boys, Coach Schwegler picked his winning team.

Sailing On To Victory

The Admirals traveled to Canton Lehman for their first game, where they were honorary guests at Lehman's dedication of their new stadium and night lighting system. That night, the Shore boys failed to bring home a victory-however, Curto made up for the loss by bringing back a nice black eye.

Shore journeyed to Brush to launch its first conference game attack and was met with warm weather and clean play. Brush was kept on the defense throughout the game. In spite of our aggressive team, the pigskin was carried over the line only once by our boys.

Coming home for their next game, our confident team swamped Bedford under a great aerial attack. Maldovan received a serious leg injury and was missed from the team for the remainder of the season.

Next, the Admirals romped over Garfield, away, and sank all of the hopes of Garfield's winning the championship. Our staunchy backfielder, Joe Dempsey, appeared for the first time this season in play, after his summer injury.

With little snow and bitterly cold weather, Shore met its one undefeated opponent of last year-Mayfield. This game evened up last year's defeat of the Admirals and also, gave our second team a chance to play (including Bob Berry after a call from the band for him).

The Shore eleven next encountered Maple Heights, away. Two excellent runs were made of about forty and fifty yards by Joe Dempsey and Paul George, respectively, of which each resulted in touchdowns. Shore came out of this genuine "dust bowl" game victorious.
'To end the gridiron season, the Admirals trounced their traditional rival under a deluge of thirty-nine points, allowing oneand the only one of the season-touchdown to Euclid Central.

Glenville . . . For the second straight year, the tar-blooders fell before Shore's smooth working Admirals. Mayfield . . . The green and white of Mayfield fell before the fast breaking tactics of the Shore team to the tune of 59 to 20. Harvey Riebe dropped in twenty points to tie the Shore record set by his brother, Mel, in 1931. Maple Heights . . . The Admirals beat a powerful Heights quintet in stride. Central . . . Shore won the first leg on the beautiful new American Legion trophy by smothering the Lions 69 to 26. Capt. Irank Montana whisked the net for twenty markers to tie the Shore record heid jointly by Mel and Harvey Riebe. Mentor . . . The smooth working combination of Riebe-Dempsey-Clarke-McKeon-Montana played its last game together by trouncing Mentor 59-16 the next night after the Central game. Brush . .

The Admirals trailing 15-3 at the half, staged one of the most brilliant rallies seen on any court in years walloping the Brown and Gold 29-8 the second half, to come in easy victors with a score of 32-23.

Second Roz- J. Lipovec, A. Papouschek, E. Shamessy; E. Heglaw, W. Dietrich, A. Blasko, 13. Moffet, Mr. Case.

Third Roa'-J. Christopher, J. Town, T. Weatherhead, J. Robinson, G. Schwartz, W. Zwierlien, k. Berry, R. Palko, D. Metts.

It's a "Case" of "Netting" Victories

BASKETBALL (Continued)

Bedford ford. The game was marked by long range shooting by the home team and the game was not decided until Joe Curto, Admiral guard, Iooped in a double decker from far out to decide the victor. Garfield . . . Garfield and Shore came up to the last league game without defeats to pack in the largest crowd to see a basketball game in the history of Shore Basketball. Garfield's classy quintet was able to put on a finishing drive to win in the last four minutes of play to cop their first Eastern Conference crown. Fairport . . . The Blue and Cold Admirals surged back to whip a powerful Fairport five for their first defeat in 16 games to the tune of $40-30$. Ed Heglaw at center and Joe Curto at guard played good defensive roles to assist the dependable scoring combination of Riebe and Dempsey:

N.E.O. SECTIONAL TOURNAMENT

Shore held the Sectional Tournament for the second consecutive year, only to have their own team draw the lairport team, by a queer quirk of fate, and be eliminated by the team they had beaten by ten points a week before. Joe Dempsey and Harvey Riebe acted co-captains the second semester and made probably the best pair of running mates at forwards to wear the school colors in recent years.

The Familiar Blue Light

The Admiral pucksters moved into their second hockey season with five lettermen and an enthusiastic group of new players. Skating off to a surprise victory over Cathedral Latin, and easily trouncing Holy Name, the icers next staged their hardest fought battle against Shaker, only to meet their first defeat. The pucksters carried the fighting spirit of Shore with them and masterfully slid through the season with only three defeats by Shaker, Cleveland Heights, and Shaw, and tied two matches with University and East High.

Shore was eliminated in the first round of play-offs by East High, whom they had held to a scoreless tie in a previous game. This was the final blow to an almost perfect hockey season, but before the play-offs our pucksters held second place in both divisions, tying the leaders of the Metropolitan division.

Pitching . . . Slugging . . .Fielding

At Coach John Pohto's first call for candidates, seventy-five willing boys turned out for baseball. It was the biggest turn-out in the history of shore's sports.

The squad was later reduced to twenty-five, of whom three were lettermen, Harvey Riebe, Elmer Weinschreider, and Capt. Frank Montana.

Joe Curto and Bob Jason turned out to be two of the best pitchers in the Metropolitan League. Their steady pitching did much in the way of contributing to Shore's fine season.

The dependable slugging of Riebe, Weinschreider, and Montana were other highlights on offense. Some good fielding by Bezdek and Heglaw featured the outfield on defense.

Shore won the championship of the Eastern Division of the Metropolitan League and were semi-finalists in the district play-offs, losing to Cleveland Heights.

The following was the 1938 schedule of baseball:

Matmen of Shore

Even though Shore's matmen got off to a late start this year, they did well for themselves. Under Coach Pohto and Captain Bill Wade the grapplers soon made up for lost time by taking second place in the Conference. This year's team was composed of seventeen muscular boys.

Shore had three home matches and traveled to the opponents' mats four times, making a total of seven matches. The matmen won four of their matches and placed four boys in the City Wrestling Tournament. Bill Wade won fourth place in the heavyweight division; Lenny Craft, fourth place in the 165 -pound division; Al Roosma, second place in the 145-pound division, and Al Bracklow took second place in the 155 -pound division.
